

DAILY NEWS

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1879.

Geo. C. Jordan, Editor and Prop'r.

MR. CORNELL must have contracted the itch in New York city, for he had hoists of acquaintances scratching him.

PERHAPS the cold wave that has swept from the North, chilling everything for the past three days, may be attributed to the Republican majority. Such news is calculated to chill everything.

NEWSPAPER estimates of the figures of the New York election were widely diverse, and none of them came within gunshot of the real amounts of votes polled for different candidates in this or that section.

THAT great and good patriot, Mr. Joseph Howard, the bogus proclama-tionist and plant tool of John Kelly, has failed to secure the coveted prize of the corporation advertising. Tam-many's patronage is worthless.

BEN BUTLER was defeated by a plurality of 12,967. His equestrian feat of riding three horses at one time failed to receive due appreciation. However, he will continue in practice, we pre-sume, and try again next year.

ATTENTION is invited to the excerpt from Colonel P. Donnan's letter to the Hot Springs Sentinel printed on the first page. There is more truth in it, perhaps, than many of our friends are willing to admit, and it deserves serious consideration.

THE Augusta (Ga.) Constitutionalist says it is an encouraging fact that the cotton sold in that city last week, as compared with the corresponding week of last year, owing to the advance in price, makes a difference in favor of the planter of about one hundred thousand dollars. The amount of cotton sold in October this year in the Southern States will net producers from eight to ten million dollars more than the sales for October last year. This is not from the larger sales, but from the increased price for cotton.

THE New York papers publish a complaint emanating from the State Board of Charities of the large number of pauper immigrants who are just now reaching the port of New York from foreign countries. These objectionable immigrants include the maimed, the blind, and the blind. The New York Board suggests that Congress provide by law the funds required to meet the expense of returning such parties to the place of their departure, and that United States Ministers and Consuls abroad be instructed to inter-fere as far as possible to prevent the shipment of foreign paupers to the United States. The efforts of the New York officials in devising means to check this evil should be heartily seconded by the authorities of other States, and Congress should give heed to the demand for an official remedy.

COMMISSIONER RATH, in reply to inquiries from Cincinnati, has rendered the following decisions, which will prove of interest to distillers and rectifiers. He decides first that rectifiers may, before or after filling their pack-ages, put on the marks and brands necessary to indicate the name and place of their business, and the particular name of the spirits as known to the trade. If upon gauging such spirits the gauger finds that the brands do not correspond with the facts he will cause immediate correction to be made. Secondly, that under section 3287 of the Revised Statutes as amended by act of March 1, 1879, the particular name of the spirits as known to the trade to be put on the packages of spirits filled at distilleries may be placed thereon in a legible way by the use of stencil plates and durable paint as well as by burn-ing or stamping.

EVERY one in a while trouble breaks out in the graded schools of some of the Northern States, either on the point of religious instruction, text books, or the course of study. The subject of text books forms a fruitful cause of trouble, owing to the fact that the habit of changing books every time the whim seizes the boards of education, entails an annual cost on parents of from $12 to $20. Within the last few years certain accomplishments have been added to the regular course, particularly music and drawing, and as books, etc., must be purchased, another draft on the household purse is made. Some fami-lies, however, have their children take a regular course of instruction in these branches outside the schools, and are unwilling to have their studies broken into by semi-weekly instructors. The rules established by the boards of edu-cation have heretofore been considered as unalterable as the laws of the Medes and Persians, but an Ohio man has gained the advantage by recourse to legal measures. William Tucker, of Pomeroy, Ohio, sued the board of edu-cation and recovered $30 damages for depriving his daughter of the privileges of the public schools. The board had decided that all the pupils should study drawing. Mr. Tucker notified the teacher that his daughter must not study that branch and the board in consequence expelled her. If this decision stands the studies arranged by the board will not be compulsory on the pupil.

THE RESULT IN NEW YORK. At the present writing (11 o'clock P. M.) the State ticket is in doubt, accord-ing to the Albany Evening Journal, the Republican organ at the Capital. The non-reception yesterday afternoon of advices of a later date than 4 A. M. in which the Times and 77th Avenue claimed that Mr. Cornell was elected with no figures to back their assertions looked suspicious. It will be remembered that a claim was made that Governor Robinson would gain sufficient from the tax-paying farmers to offset Mr. Kelly's claim of 50,000, wherein the Governor's views may be well-founded. One thing is certain: if Mr. Cornell was clearly elected we should undoubtedly have heard of it last night, as the Republican managers of the Associated Press would certainly have lost no time in heralding it throughout the length and breadth of the land. Governor Robinson left New York and Kings counties with about 25,000 majority—about 15,000 short ordinarily, with a chance to add about 4,000 in West-chester county, while Mr. Potter left New York and Kings with about 60,000 majority with his own county of Westchester to add to it. Therefore the rural districts must have developed something surprising to the Republi-can managers.

If this surmise should prove true Samuel J. Tilden's boom will be heard sounding from all quarters: If not, if Governor Robinson is defeated and his lieutenant, Mr. Potter, is elected, the result will be that New York on Tues-day became the graveyard of two Presi-dential aspirants, Messrs. Tilden and Conkling, and with the latter out of the way Mr. Blaine can boom and keep booming provided he can shelve Gen-eral Grant.

THE DOWNFALL OF TAMMANY. Out of the New York election one good thing has been evolved that cannot fail to command the Democratic party of the State to the people at large, and that is the thorough whipping of the Tammany clique that has for sev-eral years undertaken to rule or ruin. It has failed to rule and it has also failed to ruin anything but itself. The Democratic party in New York is now stronger to-day than it was a year ago.

John Kelly must feel proud of his work. His intense hatred of Mr. Tilden and Governor Robinson blinded his judgment. He had no hope of being elected but he certainly did think that his Tammany crew would secure the city and county offices, and he now has the mortification of seeing his friends in a hopeless minority in the city councils. How these patriots feel about it is not stated, but as they have fed so long at the public crib it will come hard to them to go to breaking stone, unless they have saved up enough to start grog shops.

Supposed Thief and Burglar Caught. Salisbury News, 4th.

David Manuel, colored, was to-day arrested on suspicion of having bur-glarized the residence of Mr. Pace a few nights since. Mr. Pace found a letter in his room the morning after the robbery, written by Manuel's daughter, and a diamond glass cutter, the former of which he admitted in court belonged to him. Blood was on the floor, supposed to have come from a wound made in Man-uel's arm while reaching through the window pane with the diamond, and the fact that he carried his arm in a sling ever since the robbery, weighed heavily against him.

Mr. Thomas Vandervort's evidence was to the effect that he had the glass-cutter, and showed it to Manuel, who immediately claimed it, saying that he would hang for it. He wanted it, but Mr. Vandervort said he would re-turn it to the man he got it from, from whom Manuel, in turn, would have to get it, if he would get it at all. Upon second thought, however, Manuel said it did not belong to him, and that he knew nothing about it. Manuel tried to prove that he was at home on the night of the robbery, but failed. He was bound over in the sum of $100 to appear at the Superior court to answer the charges preferred against him; but failing to secure bond, was sent to Limbo. The prospects for the conviction of Manuel are promising.

Beer in Bavaria. Mr. Wilson, United States Consul at Nuremberg, in a dispatch to the In-ternational Bureau of Commerce and Trade of that district, in the matter of crops Bavaria seemed to have suffered less than other countries from bad weather. Of hops, the chief staple product of the kingdom, there will be only a half crop. As hops are the basis of beer exported from the United States to England, higher prices might be expected. Nuremberg is the great hop center of the world. The consumption of the hops is increasing enormously throughout the civilized countries of the globe. Beer became an article of export from Bavaria in 1294. Its manufacture is under strict sur-villance of the government in all its de-tails. Its ingredients are specified in the statutes, and it must be pure and healthy. This is all important, as it is among the chief articles of diet with the poor. The average quantity of beer drunk in Bavaria, annually, by each person, is stated to be one hundred and forty-seven and a half gallons.

The Tobacco Business. Durham Tobacco Plant. The internal revenue books show that there has been an immense in-crease in the tobacco business of Dur-ham during the past year. For the month of October, 1878, Durham paid $53,838 revenue, and this when the tax was 24 cents on the pound, the number of pounds stamped and sold being 224,325. For the month of October, 1879, our town paid $72,048.35, at the rate of 16 cents on the pound. This shows that our manufacturers sold more than double the quantity of tobacco in the month of October, 1879, over double the business of October, 1878. If the increase contin-ues in this proportion, in a few years Durham will furnish smoking tobacco for the whole world.

Choose Your Own Religion. New York Sun, 3d. The Rev. S. Miller Hageman started last evening in the Masonic Temple a Sunday evening series of what he called philosophical sermons. He would be bound, he said, by no Presbytery, for no man should be held in his opinions by a body of men. Yet he would be reverent and scriptural. His text was: "As a man thinketh in his heart so is he." This, he argued, was the same as saying that is the right religion for every man to think for himself in religious matters. History teaches the truth of it. Pastors of churches, too, their congregations to go to sleep, "for," say the pastors, "we have our salaries to do our religious thinking for you." What is needed is a belief for every man born out of his own ex-perience. Having such a religious be-lief, a man may be buffeted by the whole world, and yet have peace within himself.

A Frontier Romance. A story comes from the scene of the troubles which illustrates the roman-ce of frontier life. At Camp Douglas on the morning when the order came for four companies of the Four-teenth Infantry to go to the front, the impression was that the campaign would last all winter, and would thus interfere with the marriage of Lieuten-ant L. T. Yeatman, of Company I, and Miss Louise Muilhal, sister of Lieuten-ant Muilhal, which had been arranged for the month of September. At 9 A. M. there was a hasty confer-ence of the principals in the case, and it was decided to have the ceremony performed immediately. Accordingly the chaplain was summoned, and at 10 o'clock were married. At 11 o'clock the company started for the Indian re-servation. Lieutenant Yeatman and his nephew of Admiral Ammen, Miss Muilhal lived at Washington with her brother and mother about two years, until the spring of 1878, when Lieuten-ant Muilhal was ordered west.

Cleopatra's Needle. The recent difficulty concerning the delivery of the obelisk arose from a long-standing litigation by an Italian claiming the land upon which it stands.

Commander Corringe was forbidden to remove the obelisk, but the American vice consul general was en-abled to obtain a withdrawal of this op-position through the good will of the Italian consul general in Cairo by pay-ing a slight compensation to the land-owner. The commander is now pro-ceeding rapidly with his work, al-though several holders of Egyptian bonds have threatened to sequester the obelisk. The Khedive and American vice consul general believe the idea that the obelisk can be seized by anyone.

Death of a Heroine. In New York, on Friday last, a woman was found dead on the steps leading into the cellar of a house on First Avenue. Sunday, at the morgue, the body was recognized as that of Carrie Corning, a seamstress, who, during the election riots of July, 1868, attained considerable notoriety from having rescued a policeman from the hands of a riotous mob. Captain John McCarty, of the Broadway squad, was on patrol at Third Avenue and 43d Street, and saw the woman, who took away his club and beat and kicked him. He had managed to resist her attacks for some time, but finally fell to the sidewalk in front of the house occupied by Miss Cornell's parents. She was standing at the window, and saw several of the rioters kick the body. Sprung through the window in the midst of the mob, she protected the officer from further injury by re-ceiving many blows on her own person. Ashamed of beating a young woman, the crowd desisted, whereupon she attempted to drag the officer into the house. They set upon her again, but she fought them, and finally suc-ceeded in pushing McCarty through the doors, which she barricaded. Mc-Carty is yet a member of the police force.

Rhoda Lowrey. Wilmington Review, 5th. Rhoda Chavis, formerly the wife of the celebrated outlaw, Henry Berry Lowrey, and Queen of Southtown, ar-rived here on the Carolina Central train yesterday morning. She is here in at-tendance upon the trial of the U. S. District Court. She was a conspicuous figure in the Court room during the day and attracted no little attention.

Death From an Old Wound. Oxford Torchlight. A Mr. Chapel, of Dutchville town-ship, recently died from the effects of a bullet shot by General Francis Mari-on's men during the revolutionary war.
